THE PROPER THING.

How to Make the Old City Graveyard an Attractive Resort.

For more than half a century the old Graveyard in rear of the Opera-house has been a sadly neglected spot.

There are resting therein the ashes of the Boones, the Grants, the Armstrongs, the Lees, the Mitchells, the Outtens and Maysville's first Mayor, with scores of other old pioneers.

Some years ago the Washington Fire Company took enough interest in the sacred spot to clean it up, since which it has not received the slightest care.

The tombs are fallen to pieces, headstones are scattered in all directions, and neglect and decay are written everywhere.

With the completion of the new Opera-house, the North side of the inclosure will have perfect protection by a solid brick wall more than sixty feet high.

After that THE LEDGER suggests that the grounds be thoroughly cleaned; the trees trimmed and some of the old ones cut away; the tombs restored and headstones replaced; the ground sown in grass; flowers planted; walks laid out and seats placed under the big trees; and when these things are done let the fence in rear of the Public Library Building be removed, and the Graveyard made a part and parcel of the Mason County Historical Society's grounds.

The expense of these changes would be trifling, and what is now an unsightly spot would be converted into a most attractive place.

What better or more appropriate disposition could be made of the resting place of the city's pioneers?

OFFICIAL RECORD

Of the Demands of the United States Congress Sent to Spain Wednesday.

ANSWER EXPECTED IN A SHORT TIME

Compliance Not Expected and a Forward Movement on Cuba Will Then Be Commenced.

Cuban Resolutions Authorizing the President to Intervene in Cuba Were Signed by Speaker Reed and Vice President Hobart.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Spain will not receive official notice of the demands of the United States until Wednesday, she then will be informed that the Cuban resolutions passed by congress at an early hour of the morning are now part of the laws of the United States, and an ultimatum will be sent demanding compliance with this law and an answer within a very short time, probably 24 hours. Compliance is not expected and a forward movement on Cuba will commence the latter part of the week, according to the plans of the administration.

The congressional Cuban resolutions were not signed by the president until Wednesday morning. The president early decided to make the two practically one act by a simultaneous signature of each.

Two cabinet meetings were held during the day, the first beginning at 11 and lasting nearly two hours, and the second lasting from 3 until 5:30 o'clock. At their close announcements that executive action was delayed until Wednesday was made. Both cabinet sessions were devoted principally to discussion of the ultimatum to be sent to Madrid. At the morning session the president rather favored allowing the Madrid government two or even three days in which to reply to our demand, but since that time he has changed his views somewhat, and it is now believed that the purpose to require an answer within a very short time, probably within 24 hours. The reason for limiting the time to one day or even less is said to be entirely strategic, otherwise two or three days would have been allowed. The ultimatum will not be made public here until it is sent to Madrid. It is in the hands of the Spanish government, diplomatic etiquette requiring this.

The Cuban resolutions passed by congress arrived at the white house at 1:15 o'clock Tuesday, a little over an hour having been consumed in the formalities of securing the signatures of Speaker Reed and Vice President Hobart to the resolutions. The president and his delivery at the white house by Representative Hager, of Iowa, chairman of the committee on enrolled bills, and by Representative Overstreet, of Indiana. It was expected that the resolution would be signed immediately by the president, and this was McKinley's inclination, but for certain state reasons it was deemed advisable that the resolutions and the ultimatum to Spain should be signed simultaneously and time was needed to draft the ultimatum in its final form. The fact that the resolution was not immediately signed gave rise to a few disquieting reports, but it soon appeared from statements of cabinet officers that the president had not the slightest intention of withholding his signature. Before the ultimatum in attaching it was accounted for solely by his desire to have a full and complete plan of operations for the government in the immediate future before taking the final and important step of turning the joint resolution into a statute. Just what this plan shall be was the occasion for the two cabinet meetings Tuesday. The first session, in anticipation of the reception of the resolution, was devoted largely to questions of finance and military policy, as well as to the framing of the ultimatum itself. So far as can be gathered the important point at issue in regard to the ultimatum was the question of time to be given for response on the part of Spain.

FEAR OF MARKET

ARMY AND NAVY READY FOR WAR

The Army is Being Rapidly Mobilized at Four Different Points in the Southland.

A Marine Battalion Will Accompany the North Atlantic Squadron to Be Used in Landing Operations—Quartermaster's Bay.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The bulk of preparations for action are about completed and the work is now reduced to perfecting details. The army is being mobilized and all that remains is to insure the prompt supply of all classes of equipment, and, as was stated at the navy department yesterday, the navy has been "gleaned" of available vessels, and it now comes to manning them and perfecting methods of communication and cooperation. The O'Higgins was the last desirable ship of any size in sight, and it has been authoritatively announced that all hope of getting her has been abandoned.

Gen. Greely, in charge of telegraph and telephone connections between sea coast fortifications announces that this work is in a gratifying state of forwardness. Superintendent Kimball, of the Life Saving service, has conferred with Assistant Secretary Roosevelt concerning the need of the coast service in a regularly organized system of reporting war vessels sighted at points remote from ordinary ports of entry. Such a system will be a valuable adjunct to the regular observation service.

A naval departure in naval practice is the formation of a marine battalion which will accompany the North Atlantic squadron and be used in landing operations. The quartermaster general's department of the army is rushing work on contracts for the construction of Ordway Philadelphia garrisons these contracts, but recently the war department has contracted for making them at St. Louis, New York and Chicago also.

The war department will need about 300 men as packers for the mule teams now being collected by Capt. Thomas Cresset Jefferson, barracks officer at Fort Sill, Ariz., to take charge of the government property at that place. Gen. Wilson, chief of engineers, has furnished to the secretary of war a list of engineering officers, and in the event of hostilities the war department will promptly take steps to form a corps of officers especially detailed to carry out the work in the field in engineering projects.

The attention of Adj. Gen. Corbin, of the army, having been called to certain positions, stating that "the feeling existing between the regular army and the national guards of several states has been so far as was informed, the report had no foundation in fact; that so far as he could ascertain, or was advised, only the most cordial relations existed, and every effort to retain these relations was being fostered and put forth by officers in authority in the war department."

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The authoritative statement was made at the war department yesterday that the first call for troops only the national guard will be given an opportunity to volunteer. The war department's statement is in accordance with those made by Secretary Alger to the national guardsmen who called upon him from Fort Crook, Neb., over the Missouri Pacific to Mobile, passed through here Tuesday afternoon. The regiment will receive the command of Col. W. A. Wickett.

Fort Sheridan Troops Start South. CHICAGO, April 30.—The troops at Fort Sheridan, who have been ordered to start since Saturday, left for the south at noon Tuesday. It had been expected that they would march through the city, but Gen. Brown, commander of the department, would not permit this. The troops are to go to the Belk line to the Illinois Central and Pennsylvania tracks, the former to take Battery A, Second artillery, and a squad of cavalry to the latter to take the 2nd infantry to Louisville.

THIRD SQUADRON

To Be Organized at New York City—It Will Protect United States Seaports.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—A third naval squadron is to be rapidly assembled at New York under Commander J. A. Powell, to protect the seaports of the United States. The squadron has been officially designated "the patrol squadron." It will consist of the protected cruiser San Francisco (flagship) and the auxiliary cruisers Yosemite, Prairie, Yavapai and Dixie. They are expected to be in shape for service in two weeks.

The New York naval militia on the Prairie will be commanded by Commander Train; the Massachusetts militia, the Yankee, commanded by Commander Brownson; the Maryland militia, the Dixie, commanded by Commander C. H. Davis, and the Michigan militia, the Yosemite, commanded by Commander W. H. Emery.

COMMODORE C. S. NORTON. (Commandant of the Navy Yard at Washington, D. C.)

PREMIER SAGASTA

Disperses All Hopes of Spain Yielding to Our Demands.

MADRID, via Paris, April 30.—The supporters of the government in both houses of parliament met in the senate chamber at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Senor Sagasta, the premier, addressed them as follows: "The times are so grave and the circumstances are so exceptional that acts and not words are necessary to place the present difficulty. Attacks are being made to sully the glorious history of Spain by an infamous calumny. The different Spanish governments have done their utmost to avert the war to which we are being provoked. We have now reached the limit of concession compatible with honor and territorial integrity."

"We consented to the last concession at the instance of the pope and the pope yielded; but no more attempts are made upon our honor and our territory. Spain will never consent. (Applause.) This is not the moment to trace a parliamentary programme, but the moment to unite ourselves, as our fathers have done, in the face of an odious attempt against the integrity of our territory. The insult offered to our territory is the most infamous that has ever been offered." (Prolonged applause.)

Continuing Senor Sagasta counseled the rapid constitution of chambers in order to accord to the government the means to defend the country's interests.

"Spain," he added, "will not allow a parcel of her territory to be taken from her by the enemy, nor will she be a party to any trafficking for her possessions."
